Abstract

5

10

A portable drive unit (10) for operating a handheld power tool (70) by means of suction and/or blown air, is portable in an especially handy and space-saving way in that it has a housing (11), which is designed as a case (13) that is closable with a lid (24), and that its air feeding power is adapted to the power requirement of the handheld power tool (70), and it serves to store at least one such or similar handheld power tool (70), particularly with its accessories, such as air-carrying tubes and hoses.

Fig. 1